PAY NOW OR LATER.

Free garbage collection does not have to await a session of the Legislature—if the people of this city really want the place kept clean.

At the last session of the Legislature a law was passed that allows the local government to levy taxes according to the necessities of public service. The City and County of Honolulu therefore possesses all the means necessary to conduct and equip the garbage department as it should be, paying therefor in the manner that is thoroughly businesslike and proper.

Supervisors may fear that the levy of a very small garbage tax would immediately raise a cry of increased taxation. No doubt of it. But the real issue is whether the citizens of Honolulu actually want their town kept clean, and certainly cleanliness cannot be assured with the present equipment and under the present system of garbage collection.

The garbage collection equipment is about the same as it was ten years ago. The work to be done has increased, at the least calculation, ten times more than the means to work with.

Supervisors have a straight business proposition before them which they should approach in a businesslike way, and place a definite, clear-cut proposition before the people. Then it will be possible to determine whether a clean city is wanted now and for the future, or our property holders prefer to put off the day of spending money to keep the city clean, wait for an epidemic and be forced to pour out their money like water and lose hundreds of thousands of dollars in business, while getting rid of the epidemic and the port quarantine.

They also knock who merely stand and snarl.

Of course Harvard won, Honolulu man in the boat.

Observation of the stock sheet gives the impression that Hawaii is still making money at practically the same old rate.

Honolulu can't be run by the pin-head society though its progress might be slightly retarded by the Little Honolulu members.

Honolulu has everything to do with. The only question is whether the people want action and will support it, or prefer merely to talk.

Mott-Smith has the solid support of people who amount to anything in his constructive work for the permanent improvement of Honolulu.

Why the surplus funds do not find investment in home insurance companies is one of the mysteries that the average citizen has never been able to explain.

Merchants appear to have at last waked up to a realization of the worth of evidences of life and patriotism on the Fourth of July. It is better to have started late than never.

Those captains of industry who were so widely advertised in the magazines some years ago are now nearly all to be found numbered among the indictments returned by Federal grand juries.

First decorate your place of business on the Fourth. Then if you want to tackle your nose, that's your business. Honolulu business men should show by the appearance of their business headquarters that they have not forgotten the Fourth of July.

It is about time Honolulu stirred itself to do something at home, and not leave all the celebrating to the other islands. This city should be made the attractive center as well as the natural center of the travel of the islands.

Let it not be supposed that the President has forgotten the American merchant marine, so necessary to the efficiency of our navy. That fight will be no less determined than the contest for closer trade relations with Canada.

The thirtieth of June finds business good, the bank balances larger than ever, more money paid out Saturday night than ever before, more people in town and only the natural born croakers have cause to complain. Honolulu is growing bigger and the duty of the citizen is to make it a more attractive place to live in.

Charge for the garbage service and charge for the use of the sewers are among the follies of government for which the people have none other than themselves to blame. The policy is utterly wrong and is only perpetuated by popular indifference and the short sighted cry against an adjustment of general taxes to suit the changing conditions in the town.

An unconfirmed rumor was spread about the city today that A. W. Adams, former secretary and treasurer of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, had mysteriously disappeared in San Francisco and that murder was feared.

There were about six hundred people, connected with the various church organizations in the territory called on Queen Liliuokalani at half past one today. The reception was held at Washington Place.

its proper department, the sanitation department. You could go out today and find a minor nuisance in John Doe's back yard, the report of which had passed under my eye in the mass of detail brought in by the sanitary inspectors. If you asked me, I could not swear that a nuisance existed in John Doe's back yard. As to "half-time," I do not remember making that statement in the swimming case. It is not a question of time or half-time, however, but, as above stated, a question of efficiency. And that question I am willing to leave open.

From time to time you have suggested that the health matters of the Territory should be turned over to the army, to the Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service, to the Federal officers, to the sanitary commission, or a complete reorganization effected, and that, anyway, Federal money should be secured. Criticism or suggestion which builds up is valuable. Now, it might be well for you to go into those matters, as well as the true efficiency of the Board of Health, and point out the real advantages of a change; what would be gained thereby; how it should be done, and what would be the resulting adjustments not only from the health, but from the Territorial standpoint; and what would be the advisability of a change.

Interview Forgeries.
Since the above was written you put the following words into Dr. Pratt's mouth which were never uttered by him. The words referred to are in your issue of June 29, 1911, under the title of "Little Interviews," and are as follows:

"DR. PRATT—I've got my new car and it is a beauty—demi-tonneau Cadillac. The donor refused to divulge his name, but I don't care, so long as he has divulged the car."

In view of the fact that the "new car" was presented to Dr. Pratt by citizens in appreciation of his work and that these citizens for the past motives do not wish their names disclosed, I need not characterize your motive or method in creating and inserting the above paragraph other than to call public attention thereto. Dr. Pratt has his own remedies, as also have I in regard to another occasion when you did the same thing to me. Yours very truly,
E. A. MOTT-SMITH.

HAWAII COUNTY SUPERVISORS CLEAR OFF HEAVY DEBT AND NOW PUT MONEY IN TREASURY

Hawaii county, with the assistance of considerable financing by the new board of supervisors, has cleared off a debt of $57,000, kept up all necessary work and is now well to the good with a nice little sum in the treasury, according to Charles H. Swain, treasurer of the county, who is in Honolulu on a short business trip.

Swain says that all the epithets that were hurled against the supervisors of Hawaii county for inefficient administration might hold good against the old board, but that the new board is making a record, and that never again under the kind of administration that is in force now will the gentlemen from the large island let the county get into the hole.

"We don't appropriate a dollar unless the funds are in sight to meet the bills," said Treasurer Swain this morning. "The county has succeeded in getting off the warrant basis and now pays its employees in cash and meets the bills promptly."

A vigorous policy of cutting down running expenses and stopping big appropriations for new work has been followed by the board, particularly in regard to county roads, and as a result, the county is back on its financial feet.

Treasurer Swain says that Delegate Kuhio's declared intention to beat Gov. Frear out of a reappointment has stirred up a lot of political talk, and that many leading politicians of Hawaii would like to see the delegate return to Congress for another session, whether or not Frear is reappointed. He says that both have influential followings.

PINKHAM BACK; MAY RETURN

Considerably tired from his work, L. E. Pinkham, representing the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association in recruiting laborers in the Philippine Islands, returned to Honolulu today as a passenger in the Pacific Mail steamship Siberia.

Pinkham has been at the head of recruiting operations in the Philippines for something like three years. The first attempts made by him, as well as his assistants Steven and Wagner to enlist Filipinos in and about Cebu and Iloilo met with considerable opposition.

The trouble at one time became so acute down in the Southern Islands that no less important personage than His Excellency Governor General W. Cameron Forbes was obliged to pay a visit to the disturbed district and bear the olive branch of peace. The fight maintained against the Hawaiian labor recruiters did not terminate until after a mob of several hundred mestizos and Spaniards had attempted to drive Agent Steven from Jaro, a small town not far distant from Cebu. Pinkham was met at the wharf by Special Agent Royal D. Mead of the Planters' labor bureau.

Pinkham declined to commit himself as to his future movements though he intimated in a conversation that he might return to the Philippines within a few months. In that event he might make the journey by the way of Europe and the Suez Canal.

Messrs. Steven and Babbitt are at present in charge of labor recruiting work in the Philippines.

A Treatment for Sick Headache

Few diseases which do not threaten the life of the patient cause more suffering, more unhappiness in the family, more disturbance to the home life, than sick headache. The disorder is therefore worthy of the most careful study and attention. Many cases can be cured. Some may be incurable but these can be alleviated and the attacks made less frequent, an improvement well worth the effort.

Anything which tends to lower the "tone" of the body operates to bring on an attack and when the system is "tuned up" the attacks become less frequent or disappear altogether. Thus indiscretions of diet will produce an attack as will a sudden shock, grief or other mental disturbance. After a vacation spent in the open air, or when the general health is especially good, there is freedom from attack. These facts led to the so-called tonic treatment for sick headache and for years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have been used with good results in numberless cases.

Mrs. Katherine Rupert, of No. 1270 Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles, Cal., says: "I suffered with sick headaches for years. When they began they would occur about every three months. Then they became more frequent and for years I had them every two weeks. While they lasted I was often confined to bed. The pain was mostly in the back of my head and lasted from two to five days. During the attacks I would be very dizzy and it seemed as though I was going blind. I was treated by doctors for many years but when I gave up taking their medicine I would soon be as badly off as ever. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as I had seen them recommended for cases similar to mine. The pills helped me very soon and, as they were the only medicine that left no bad effects, I kept on with them. I haven't had a headache in I don't know how long and I feel certain that I am entirely cured."

A new laxative, PINKLETS, designed to be used in connection with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, affords a perfect combination treatment. These little laxative pills slightly stimulate the stomach and bowels and act on the liver. They are mild, sugar-coated, entirely vegetable, do not gripe and have no habit-creating tendency. A sample will be sent free on request together with our pamphlet on the treatment of sick headache.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. The genuine pills are sold only in packages bearing the well-known trade-mark as shown here.
